BALTIMORE IN THE LEAD.

WITH CLARKE IN THE BOX THE NEW YORKS ARE BEATEN. Philadelphias Narrowly Escape Being

Shut Out by the Brocklyne-Bestons Bent the Washingtons-Fittsburghs Befeat Louisville in an Up-hill The reconstructed New Yorks began their final series at Baltimore yesterday. Hanlon's men led throughout and won easily, and there-by regained the lead in the face. At Eastern Park the Philadelphias could not fathom Payne until the ninth inning, when they scored their only runs. The Washingtons played a hard game against the Bostons, but their rally came too late. It looked as if the Colonels would beat the Pittsburghs until the latter players tallied seven runs in the eighth inning. The results:

BALTIMORE, Aug. 5 .- Esper was in fine fettle day and received fine support. Two singles followed by Connaughton's home-run drive to he open stand to the fifth let the visitors score three tailies. Gleason's two-bagger and outs by the two following batamen allowed the fourth tally. Clarke was batted almost at will by the champions, and his support was bad. Umpire Sheridan did not give the home team any the worst of the close decisions. Attendance, 6,012. The score:

Clean hitting with the assistance of some poor fielding on the part of Cross enabled the Brooklyns to defeat the Philadelphias at Eastern Park yesterday. During the first two innings the Brooklyns had men on bases, but Keener managed to ward off disaster. Keener had any amount of speed, but it made little difference to Fouts's men how fast the ball travelied over the plate, for they slashed it to all quarters of the field, not one of the home players failing to scure at least one hit. However, with proper support the Brooklyns would only have scored four runs. Cross's throwing was as wild as a Missouri cyclone, his high one to the plate in the third inning actually creating a panic among the Quaker players. Payne, as cool as an ireberg, mowed down the visitors with hardly an effort. When the ninth inning opened only four Quakers had reached first base. However, the visitors staved off a shutout in the last inning. Lachance made the first Brooklyn error by muffing Shindle's throw of Hulen's bounder. When Mertes grounded to Lackance, Hulen was advanced to third. Corcoran failing to handle Lachance's throw, and he scored on Delebanty's double. Thompson found Payne for three bases, bringing in Delebanty, while Clementa's hit tailled Thompson. The score:

YACHTING IN ENGLAND.

Race for the Squadron's Prize at Cowes-A Chapter of Accidents.

Cowes, Aug. 5.-The regatte of the Royal is commodore, was continued to-day. The yachts started at 10 o'clock this morning for the squadron's prize of £100, sailing over the same cup. The starters were the Prince of Wales's cup. The starters were the Prince of Walea's Britannia, Emperor William's Meteor, W. H.
Walker's Carese. A. Barclay Walker's Allsa, and C. D. Rose's Satanita.
A strong northeast wind was blowing and the start was made in fine style, the boats going across the line almost at the same time. The wind continued to blow very fresh after the yachts got away. When off Ryde the Meteor, which was then sailing fast with everything drawing for all it was worth, carried away her topmant and however!! which put he cannot be race.

The Britannia, Satauita, and Caress went on the wrong side of one of the mark boata, and, as this disqualified them, they gave up the race. The Alisa continued but was also disqualified. The race will be resalled.

Odds and Ends of Sports.

In reply to an inquiry regarding the rumar of Harry Cornish's withdrawal from the Knicker-booker A. C., an officer of the olub said last evening: "There is no truth in the report. The club has a new steward, who, in addition to the duties of the old steward, will relieve Cornish of the duties of the old steward, will relieve Cornish of the duties of house management, which he took up a few months ago because, at the time, no one else was available to look after them. This work was now to Cornish's taste, and he is now free to devote sli his attention to athietics, in which field, in the opinion of every director of the club, he has no superior."

GAUDAUR SAILS FOR EUROPE. ing Championship.

Jake Gaudaur, who is matched to row Stanbury, the Australian, for the sculling championship of the world, a side stake of £250, and the Sportsman's Cup, over the famous four-mile course from Putner to Mortlake, sailed yesterday morning for Southampton on board the American liner Paris. The American champion was accompanied by his backer, J. W. Smith, a wealthy lumberman, who hails from Orrila, Ont., the birthplace of Gaudaur, and R. Dessette of Toronto, who is also financially interested in the Canadian carsman. At the last moment J. S. S. Harris, Gaudaur's brother-in-law, decided to accompany the party.

The costar shell which was specially made for Gaudaur by Ruddock, the Harlem boatbuilder, was securely wrapped in canvas and lashed down on the lower deck, where it will be sheltered from the sun, behind the after funnel. The shell is 31% feet lone and 11 inches wide. It narrowly escaped serious injury as it was being carried to the pieryesterday morning. The men in charge of the boat, while endeavoring to avoid a truck which got in the way, allowed her bow to strike some freight that was lying on the sidewalk, and it was badly stoye. The injury can be repaired, however. Clasper, the English boatbuilder, will have another shell ready for the champion on his arrival. Gaudaur's training quarters while in England will be at the famous White Hart Inn, near Barnes Bridge, where Beach stopped in 1506. Gaudaur by Ruddock, the Harlem boatbuilder.

Cornish Blames the Championship Com mittee, The following letter has been received on the subject of the protest filed against Daniel Reuss, who scored four points for the Knickerbocker A. C. in the championship games last Saturday:

To rue Editor of Ter Sun-Sir: In a recent issue you published a statement from the captain of the Williamsburgh A. A., and your columns have also contained comments on the protest lodged by that club against D. Reuss, who competed for this club last Saturday. The facts are these: The day after the publication of the catries I received a letter from Secretary Barnes of the Williamsburghs. This was the lass was ineligible to compete for us, as he had competed for the Williamsburghs. This was the first intimation I had that he was ever a member of that caub. I immediately wrote Mr. Beuss and received a reply that he "had never competed for them." I sent if Mr. harnes knew that Reuss had competed for his club he was to notify the Championship Committee of the fact and was to have the entry changed so as to read from the Williamsburgh Club, as it was not the policy of the Knickerbocker Club to induce any athletes to feave other chub. I also sent Reuss's letter and a copy of my letter to Mr. Barnes to the Championship Committee. It seems to me that it was the duty of the committee to learn the exact facts and either cluange the energy or else take steps to see that no protest was seven considered as against Heuss. The inaction of the Championship Committee places him and this club in an unfavorable light and subjects both to unjust criticism.

The recent failures among bicycle dealers and manufacturers are responsible for an idea among riders that the outputs next season will be limited, and that some of the cheaper grade bicycles will find little demand. A dealer who has watched the market closely this season discussed the situation with The Sun reporter yeaterday. He said: "The well-knows mannfacturers feel no apprehension about the demand for bicycles next year or what the public will want. They seem well satisfied that the new riders who undertook to purchase cheap wheels this year will have found out that some of the alarming bargains are not what they were represented to be, and next spring will see these riders using the standard make of bicycles. I admit that bicycles can be purchased to-day right in the down-town districts from $25 up, but let an expert examine these wheels, their finish seems good, but the workmanship and material must also be considered. I doubt if purchasers of these wheels ever get any astisfaction out of them. It now looks very much as if the demand for medium-priced bicycles they can be purchased up the season will result in all the big manufacturers turning out what will be termed a second-grade wheel, which they will seli at less than $100. It is a well-known fact that the 380 bicycles this year affected the sale of $100 wheels to a large extent, and the manufacturers must affect any of the large and representative firms." The recent failures among bicycle dealers and

A route from this city to Albany was published in The Sun on Aug. 1. In to-day's issue a route from Albany to Buffalo appears in answer to a "Reader."

To reach Montreal, leave Albany via Broadway direct to Troy. Continue Broadway to Sixteenth street, and turn left to towpath. Then turn right; turn left to Kearney's Lock; cross canal, one bridge only, and take gravel turnight to Cohoes. Follow horse car tracks to where they turn up Mohawk street, then turn right to Saratega street, over Mohawk River bridge, through North Side, following street car tracks to left bridge, to Waterford. Turn left at canal and follow towpath to Fort Miller and Stillwater. Pass through Mechanicville and Bemis Heights to Schuylersville and Northumberland. At this point cross the Hudson to Thompson's Mills, turn left to Fort Edward, follow electric car tracks to Sandy Hill, pass through Gien Falls, and take plank road to Caidwell and Lake George. Ride from Lake George to Bolton and take the boat te Sabbath-day Point, as the roads over the mountains are very poor. Ride direct to Hague, and on to Ticonderoga. Continue direct to Crown Point, Port Henry, Westport, Whallonsburgh, Willsboro, Ausable Chasm, Keeseville, Peru, Hapham's Mills. From the Mills ride to Plattaburgh and on to Chasy, Cooperwille. Fort Mongomery, Rouse's Point and Lacolie. At this pagin follow road direct inte St. John's and on to Chambly, Longueuil, and Montreal.

Biders complain that the refusal of the town authorities at different points on Long Island to erect sign boards warning riders to keep off the side paths resulte in the apprehension and imposition of a fine of from $2 to $5 upon large numbers of riders every week who are ignorant of the law prohibiting riding on the walks where the roads are unrideable. A Brooklyn rider says that in taking a ride last week he had passed through Jamaica on his way back to Brooklyn and was riding through Richmond Hill when he found the road at one stretch full of stones. He crossed to the side path, but had only ridden one block when he was placed under arrest by a constable. He was fined $2, the poor condition of the road sot being accepted as any excuse for violating the town laws. He says that seven other riders had been fined the same day and that some of the Long Island towns derive a weekly income of from $35 to $60 from the bloyds riders. Riders complain that the refusal of the town

Although outdoor bleycle races at night have been successfully run at Philadelphia, Buffaio, and other cities, that sort of snort has never been attempted in the vicinity of the metropolis. The drawback has unquestionably been the absence of a suitable track within easy access of the city. This difficulty has been overcome by the building of a track within the city limits, and New York will be able to witness the initial night races on the evening of Aug. 30. The meet will be held at the Olympia Bicycle Park, 135th street and Lenox avenue, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Cycle Racing Association. The track is six laps to the mile, with very high banking on the turns, and is as safe as any track in the country. It is thirty feet wide in the home stretch and twenty-five on the turns. The events to be contested are: Half mile for novices, half-mile handicap, one-mile open, and one-mile handicap. Gold, silver, and bronze medals of guaranteed value will be offered for each event. Entry blanks can be obtained from A. Reeves, room 1,310, 150 Nassau street, New York.

greenkeepers at Tuzedo and the Tuckers are the professionals at the St. Andrew's Golf Club.
John Patrick figured in a number of open competitions last season, and in the recent championship scored 172. Alex, the other Patrick, is only a boy, but he has a neat style. His card in the open championship was 85 and 88, a total only a stroke behind his brother. Will Tucker is also in his first season here. He is a nephew of Willie Dunn and a rare good gulfer. In Eng-land he was the professional at the Redhill and of Willie Dunn and a rare good totter. An analysis land he was the professional at the Redhill and Reigate Golf Club, where he had the record for the links. In the open championship Willie cored 78 and 82, or 160 in all. Sam Tucker made 88 in the first round of the Shinuecock Hills event and then withdrew. He is a seady and sure player. To-day's foursome should be a very even match.

Saturday's match between Willie Dunn and Willie Park, Jr., at Ardisley Casino promises to be the most exciting golfing content of the season among the professionals. It is for a purse of $200, presented by the Golf Committee of the club. Both men are eager to win, Park having postponed his return to Europe to play the match and Dunn having a strong desire to retrieve his defeats by Park at Shinuecock Hills and Morristown last year. Dunn beat Park at Meadow Brook, and he hopes to repeat on caturday. The match will be of thirty-six holes instead of eighteen, as first announced. The first half will be started at 10:30 A. M. and the second at 3:15 P. M. Express trains for Ardsley Casino will leave on the New York Central from the Grand Central Station at 9:45 and 1:50.

Ardsley Casino will leave on the New York Central from the Grand Central Station at 9:45 and 1:50.

Willie Park, Jr., made his first visit to the Ardsley Casino links yesterday and played over the course with his friend, Poter Blair. A card was not kept, but Bark was in good form and showed some fine drives and approach strokes. Some of his playa, on the stroke after the tee drive, over the gulches along the Hudson River bank, were very cleverly made. Park used his mashie niblick, and after a high carry found the putting green each time, quite close to the cup. The idiand holes, especially the long home hole, pleased Park, for they gave many chances for his long drives and cleek shots. Park will practise on the Ardsley course to-day and to-morrow. Willie Dunn is also taking plenty of preparatory work, and he will be found in perfect condition when the time comes to drive the first bail on Saturday.

George Strath's good showing in the four-some with Willie Park, Jr., on Tuesday so impressed the members of the Dyker Meadow Golf Club that they at once made up a purse of $150 for a match between their greenkeeper and Park. It will be played on Tuesday hert and be a thirty-six-hole contest, the first half starting at 11 and the second at 2 o'clock. Unless a match is made in the mean time for Wednesday or Thursday, Park will sail the day after the Strath match. At all events, he hopes to be afloat by Aug. 8.

GOLFING AT FORT HAMILTON. Monthly Handlesp of the Dyker Meadow Clab.

Although some twenty players started, only nine handed in cards in the monthly handicap at the Dyker Meadow Golf Club at Fort Hamilton yesterday. The winner was Daniel Chauncey, the only man who played from scratch. He was in difficulties playing for the first hole going out, which spoiled his card for the round, but in the second round Chauncey beat the but in the second round Channes beat the bogey score by a stroke. Duncan Edwards, with a handicap of seven, was only beaten by a stroke for first place. Playing for the ninth hole, on the first round, Edwards was on the green in two, but the put over-ran the green again, so that it took him seven for the hole. R. L. Beeczman of the Country Club of Westchester is also a Dyker Meadow member and he was third in the match. Beeckman is one of the longest drivers on the links. The
